Blog Page Mobile

- Where I began
- Styled with Flexbox
- Fun to build

Contact Page Mobile

- Simple flexbox page
- Links styled in Whitesmoke

Home page desktop

- Grid works easier on desktop and tablet

The screenshot shows a desktop browser window with the URL `determined-benz-5d2448.netlify.app/index.html` in the address bar. The page has a dark teal header with white navigation links: Home, Portfolio, About, Blog, and Contact. Below the header, the main content area features a large title "A Dev's Collection by Chris Hannam" in a light blue font. To the left of the title is some placeholder text: "Some text here to get your attention look". At the bottom left is more placeholder text in Latin: "Lorem, ipsum dolor sit amet consectetur adipisicing elit. Nam porro voluptatum, commodi eligendi, similique minus deleniti iste debitis quidem est molestias aliquid ut qui! Veniam magni consequuntur repellat voluptat.". On the right side of the content area is a large, high-resolution black and white photograph of a modern spiral staircase with dark treads and a light-colored wall.

Portfolio page desktop

Left side of the slide contains a bulleted list:

- Exact copy of Home page
- Should allow for easy addition of new content

The main content area shows a screenshot of a web browser displaying a portfolio page. The URL in the address bar is "determined-benz-5d2448.netlify.app/portfolio.html". The page has a dark background with a light green header bar containing navigation links: "Home" (highlighted in blue), "Portfolio" (highlighted in pink), "About", "Blog", and "Contact". Below the header, the word "Portfolio" is displayed in large white letters. In the center, the text "Coming soon.." is shown in a large, light green font. At the bottom, the text "Stay tuned to see me drop some cool thingies" is displayed in a smaller, light green font. On the right side of the slide, there is a photograph of a computer setup on a desk. It features two monitors: a large curved screen on the left and a smaller rectangular screen on the right, both displaying code or data. A keyboard and mouse are on the desk, along with a pair of headphones and some speakers. The background is a dark room with blue ambient lighting.

A Devs Collection

Look at my website

The Tablet version is basically a sized down version of the desktop, very simple.

Wireframes - Portfolio Page & About Page Tablet

The image displays two wireframe prototypes for a mobile application, specifically designed for a tablet device.
